Louis James in Henry VIII.

There will be presented at the Auditorium next Thursday evening, an "agreeable surprise," in the performance of Shakespeare's "Henry the Eighth," with Mr. Louis James in the role of "Cardinal Wolsey." Personally, Mr. James has been, and is, a leading and bright particular star in the theatrical firmament, with a following second to no other actor of equal attainments. Mr. James has prepared an entire new production of this Shakespearean masterpiece, as originally presented by the late Edwin Booth, and it is described as an offering of splendid magnificence, the scenery being beautiful in coloring and in arrangement, easily suggesting the atmosphere of the times.

For some weeks past, indeed, since the initial announcement that Mr.
James was to present "Henry the Eighth," in Vinita, there has been an undercurrent of gossip concerning the approaching performance, and with the interest growing as the eventful time draws nearer, it is well to know that the advance sale of reserved seats will open at Peoples Drug Store, next Monday.
